The Legend of the Heintzelmannchen

Heintzelmannchen are gnome-like creatures found in the Black Forest of Germany. They are rarely seen, however always helpful to creatures and people alike. According to German folklore the Heintzelmannchen visit proprietors during the night to assist with chores, so the proprietors have more time to give back to their community.

Dieter Kuhn, Certified Braumeister, was born and raised in Heidelberg near the Black Forest of Germany. As a boy Dieter was sent to the local brauhouse to pick up the week's worth of beer for his family. His uncle malted grain for beer, so the desire for wholesome, fresh ales was instilled in Dieter very early.

The taste of fresh, natural beer was difficult to find in America, so Dieter began home brewing as a hobby. With positive feedback from friends and family, his passion to have his own brewery grew.

Established in 2004 Heintzelmannchen Brewery, Inc. brings you fresh hearty ales, made with wholesome grains, fresh hops and no preservatives, that are keg conditioned and non-filtered. Dieter with his wife, Sheryl Rudd, invite you to stop by the brewery for a keg or growler or enjoy by the glass at a local restaurant.
